Organizational Information

The Horner Cycling Foundation is a 501C3 non-profit.

The Mission of the Horner Cycling Foundation is to create a junior road cycling team that is inclusive, accessible to all socioeconomic statuses with the focus on skill development, team building and fostering a life-long love of cycling.

We currently have a development team of 10 youth athletes whose ages range from 7-13. This summer they have been training once a week with our coaches and racing the Bend Summer Crit Series that we put on in July. It's been so fun to see their confidence build socially and, on their bike. Because Chris, like many young athletes, did not grow up with the financial means to support his dream of becoming a professional cyclist, Chris and HCF want to assure that money is never a barrier to getting kids involved in this lifetime sport. Like Chris, HCF often leans on support from Master's riders and cycling enthusiasts to pay for race entry fees, equipment, housing, and transportation for HCF athletes and participants. HCF will support team members in paying any needed expenses so juniors can focus on enjoying their sport. All necessary equipment and expenses for young athletes will be covered by the Horner Cycling Foundation, and that is why we need supporters like you.

Our vision for HCF is to give back to juniors and to positively benefit the community by producing local racing opportunities, clinics, and family rides, all at no cost to participants. The past two summers, the HCF put on a 4-week criterium series and a 4-week cyclocross series, which were funded by donations. The local racing community came out and were so enthusiastic. Every crit and cyclocross race had races for kids starting at three years of age, and we were blown away by the number of young riders who came out each week to participate. Additionally, HCF is collecting donated road and cyclocross bikes from the community to create a "bike library" to loan to riders who need them. www.hornercyclingfoundation.com
